Is there a funny, sentimental story about your car?

- Matter of fact there is when I got the car from my Dad I went home and told my wife that I just traded for it. She said you traded for that piece of junk that has to be the ugliest car I have ever seen in the world, So over the last 3 years she has ragged on me about the car....I can't believe your wasting your time on that junk....I would say "well fine guess ya won't have to worry about riding in it then". So after all that and the car got painted and finished, one night I was out in the garage my wife came out to bring me a glass of tea, she said I need to tell you something.... Dan you must of seen something I didn't that is a beautiful car you have got to be proud.....And I said "You still can't ride in it" .....LOL
